A universal mounting kit includes a support apparatus, a set of tie straps, a set of mounting pads and a sheet of instructions directed to providing a user 6 with a step by step procedure for securing the support apparatus removably to first and second tubular surfaces, where the first tubular surface is a desired object such as a bicycle handlebar or gun barrel and where the second tubular 9 surface is another desired object such as a flashlight housing or laser pen housing.
